

Procedure in the case of 'force majeure' impacting mobility under Erasmus+ program

1. What is the case of 'force majeure'?

If, during your mobility period abroad, an unexpected event has occurred that is beyond your control and not caused by your intention or negligence, such as an accident, death of a family member or relative, cancellation of your mobility by the host university/institution, etc., and you have decided to terminate your Erasmus mobility, this case will be considered as a case of 'force majeure'. And you have decided to terminate your Erasmus mobility, such a case can be considered as a case of 'force majeure'.

2. How do I need to report the case of 'force majeure'?

PLEASE IMMEDIATELY INFORM YOUR HOME UNIVERSITY ERASMUS+ OR MOBILITY COORDINATOR ON THE EMERGENCY SITUATION THAT HAPPENED.

Any student or staff who has decided to terminate or to cancel their Erasmus mobility due to the event of 'force majeure', should immediately contact their home university (sending institution) to report the termination/cancellation of their mobility by sending an email to WSB University Academic Mobility Coordinator at jludzien@wsb.edu.pl as well as to inform their host university/institution about such action. This has to be done using a special 'Force majeure' Form.

PLEASE PREPARE YOUR DOCUMENTS FOR SUBMISSION ALONG WITH 'FORCE MEJEUR' FORM:

- 'Confirmation of stay' which is the official document issued by your host university/institution with the actual start date and end date of your mobility period in the host institution, duly signed and stamped by your host university/institution;

- Description of the event that happened;
- Document which confirms the occurrence of 'force majeure' (eg. doctor's statement, cancelling of your classes/event in host university/institution, emergency state etc.)

If, for some justified reasons, your mobility will not take place or has been cancelled and you have already incurred some of the costs (e.g. plane tickets were purchased, accommodation was booked, etc.), then you may apply for recognition of the costs incurred which could not be recovered in another way. To claim such costs, you must also submit:

- any bills, invoices, plane/bus tickets, bank transfers;
- any evidence which would prove that you have made efforts to claim your expenses back (eg. some emails you exchanged with the hotel, airline company etc.)

WAIT FOR THE DECISION.

Your documents will be sent to Erasmus National Agency – Foundation for Development of Education System in Warsaw. Each case will be analysed individually.
